

I have been an XM subscriber for approximately 18 months. The variety of programming, and nation wide coverage are what brought me to XM, but after just a few weeks, I realized that XM brings much more to the table. The caliber of news and entertainment available 24/7 and coast to coast is amazing. On a recent trip to Baltimore, MD, I found out first hand the power of XM's new instant traffic and weather. I happened to be on the beltway when a funeral procession for a fallen police officer closed part of the beltway and route 83. With this advance notice, I was able to reroute my trip home with minimal delay. Please allow other people to take advantage of this system as it is a tremendously powerful tool. I do not live in a market the XM covers with it's instant traffic and weather, but when I travel, it is the first place I look for information before I reach my destination.
